

Plant Care: 5 Favorites for the Fall Season

1. Kangaroots – This is the perfect product to stimulate the roots of your freshly planted fall crops. Unlike other root stimulators Kangaroots is inoculated, which means it provides beneficial fungi and bacteria to support the root system.
2. Expanded Shale – Our soil in Houston tends to be heavy in clay. This is not ideal for plants or trees that want well-draining soil, which is almost all of them! Expanded shale will help water pass through the soil and absorb moisture that will be released later as the soil dries out. Expanded shale is recommended for all plantings.
3. Happy Frog Tomato & Vegetable – Don't forget to feed your fall crops! This organic, high-nitrogen fertilizer is a favorite of ours. When used once a month it will encourage healthy growth for all your vegetables and provide calcium to keep the cell structure strong.
4. Leaf Mold Compost – Nature's Way Leaf Mold Compost is a high quality compost that is great for many situations. Some top uses include correcting sod webworm damage, adding microbial activity to the soil, and amending your fall gardens before planting,
5. Corn Gluten Meal – Now that we are starting to transition from our hot summer weather to our cool fall weather, it is time to prepare for the next round of weeds. Applying corn gluten meal will stop the germination of these weeds before they sprout up. This organic amendment is perfect for lawns and landscapes!
